

Dr. Rahul S Kadian

BDS, MDS - Conservative Dentistry & Endodontics

Dr. Rahul Kadian pursued his bachelor's in dental surgery(BDS) from Kurukshetra university and completed his internship in the year 2011. He then managed a private practice for over a year in Dwarka (Delhi). Because of passion for his subject, he planned to quit his job and went for his further studies and did his post graduation in the department of conservative dentistry & endodontics from Rajasthan university of health sciences (RUHS). During his course in RUHS, he used to visit as a consultant in few clinics in Udaipur during the evening hours so that he could keep perfection in his job. After completing his masters, he started his career as a consultant in Gurgaon in few clinics, as he planned to settle down in Gurgaon itself. After a year or so, he finally planned to start his own practice and finally succeeded in doing that in DLF phase II (Gurgaon). He is committed to helping all his patients to reach their “ smile goals ” & continually strives for excellence. Attention to detail in diagnosis & treatment takes top priority in his practice. Individualized treatment plans are drawn up & followed thus ensuring optimal patient care & comfort. It is our continued effort to provide a friendly atmosphere aided by our co-operative supportive staff and skilled dentists. He has a well-equipped dental clinic with the latest instrument and the infrastructure is one of the best in the city. In the clinic, ultimate care is taken to assure proper sterilization. The equipment is ultra-modern and of international standards. Our mission is to provide painless & personalized state of the art dentistry in a calm and relaxed environment at an affordable cost.
